EFFORT TO DISCREDIT MAY FAILS

Efforts to discredit the administration of Sheriff John A. May, who was elected on a prohibition and law enforcement platform, have failed. The friends of the sheriff held a meeting last night and made an indemnity bond of $5,000. The signatures to this bond represent an outlay of a million and a half dollars or more and it was signed by some of the most wealthy and influential citizens of the city.

Charges of irregularities in his office were brought against Sheriff May by some of his political enemies, and complaint was made to the bonding company. They sent a representative to Dothan and he inspected the books of the sheriff's office and other county records, and did not find any violations of the law.

Sheriff May was already under a $5,000 bond for the faithful performance of his duty, but the bonding company, realizing that the enemies of the sheriff may harass him and otherwise attempt to hamper his work, and cost the bonding company money, asked that an indemnity bond of $5,000 be made.

At the meeting last night signatures were readily placed to the bond, which was perfectly satisfactory to the bonding company agent.

Charges Made.
It is understood that charges were made to the bonding company that the sheriff charged prisoners $2.00 board in the county jail, and that upon turning them out he made them pay a fee of 50 cents for their liberty. He was also charged with arresting persons without warrants and holding them in jail. It is said that the names of negroes were signed to the written complaints.

The representative of the bonding company, according to reports, has found nothing irregular in the conduct of the sheriff's office, he having investigated a number of cases.

Friends of Sheriff May regarded these activities as the work of political enemies of the sheriff and his policies and they rushed to his rescue.

So far it's the sheriff's round.

ROW ABOUT ROAD CAUSE OF KILLING

As the sequence to a quarrel concerning a community road, Martin Melton met Louis Hunt in the road near Haleburg, Henry county yesterday, and after the men had passed a few words, Melton reached down in his wagon, got a shot gun and opened fire on Hunt, killing him.

The two men were neighbors and were engaged in farming near Haleburg. The dispute arose Wednesday, hot words ensuing between the men at that time. Yesterday both were hauling cane to a mill. Their wagons met in a road, Louis Hunt, according to reports, got out of his wagon, opened his knife and told Melton that he was going to cut his throat. Melton replied by opening fire with his shot gun.

U. S. IS GOING IN FOR MORE LUXURIES

Trade Bureau Says Diamond Import Picking Up.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The United States as the creditor nation for the world has gone into the market for luxuries. The foreign trade bureau today announced that more than a million dollars worth of diamonds additional was imported during October than during September. The total for the month was $1,523,048 from England, through the London consulate.

Large increases were noted in shipments of hides, furs and wool and a decrease was shown in rubber. During October articles of a total value of $1,645,565 were imported through London alone.

HALF OF SERBIA UNDER CONTROL OF TEUTON ALLIES

London, Nov. 4.—Half of Serbia is now in the hands of the Austro-German armies and their Bulgarian allies.

The Austro-Hungarian army which occupied Eshitz in western Serbia is now delivering smashing attacks against the Serbian strongholds in the mountains south of Cacak (Chachack).

A circle of steel is being drawn around Nish, former capital of Serbia.

The Serbian first army of the north is in danger of annihilation as the result of the failure of the Anglo-French forces to get reinforcements to the Serbs north of Nish.

According to a Berlin dispatch King Peter has departed from the front and no one knows where the Serbian monarch has gone.

Another Berlin dispatch says that the situation in Serbia has become so desperate that the Serbian Minister at Petrograd has served formal notice of the Russian foreign office that, unless Serbia receives adequate help immediately she will conclude a separate peace with the central powers.

The landing of a French expeditionary force at Kavala to invade southern Serbia.

The occupation of Monastir by the Bulgars is imminent.

But while the Teutonic forces and their allies are advancing with crushing force, they are paying dearly in human life. The Bulgarian losses on the southern front alone are placed at 300,000 and those on the northern front at 20,000. The German and Austro-Hungarian losses are placed at 60,000, making a grand total of 110,000.

DIXIE CONRAD ESCAPES; CAUGHT IN MONTGOMERY

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 4.—Dixie Conrad, aged about 15 years of Dothan, was arrested here this morning about 3 o'clock by the police, charged with having escaped from the Alabama Boys' Industrial school at East Lake.

Young Conrad had in his pockets at the time two watches, several tie clasps and $7 in cash. He admitted having obtained these things by robbing a small store at East Lake yesterday morning.

The man who wants to get in business for himself so he can be his own boss, doesn't know the public very well.

There Is A Sentiment In Dothan For Law And Order

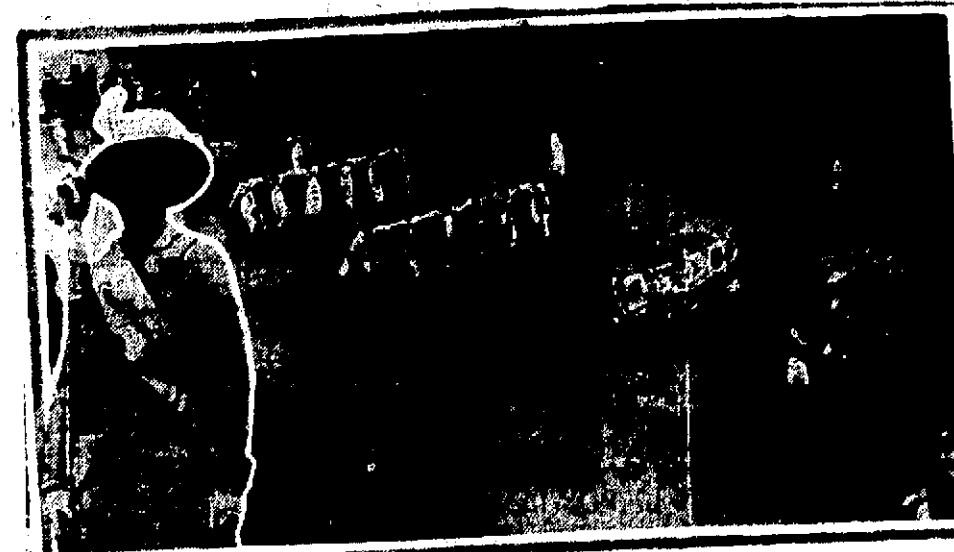

When the enemies of Sheriff May attempted to get the guarantee company to come off his bond, for some fancied error, they thought to pave the way to put in another sheriff, one who wouldn't give the law violator so much trouble. They had made complaints to the guarantee company against May. A man was sent here by the company to make investigations, and when he had gone through the sheriff's books, and the other officers, whose records would be necessary, he found but few if any errors. The most important thing he found out after getting here, was, that there was an element trying to get May's goat; and that there was another, and still more determined element, who didn't propose for this to happen.

A meeting was held in one of the downtown offices last night, at which were present some of the most representative citizens of the city. The man representing the guarantee company told them, that owing to the high feeling, he wanted them to indemnify the company to the amount of $5,000, and this was done. The signers of the bond represent in the aggregate, at least one million and a half dollars, and every man signed gladly, to show that they thought Sheriff May was doing his duty in his pursuit of the law violator. This is a high endorsement for May. He deeply appreciates this confidence. If his bond had been forfeited, as was attempted, it is likely that some man would have been named who wouldn't have been so vigilant. That is a condition they sought to bring about, but failed.

The representative citizens of Dothan stand for law enforcement. May promised that in his race, and if he lives he aims to keep his word.

Part of New York's Suffrage Parade

Pictures taken on Saturday, showing a portion of the largest demonstration ever given for woman suffrage in this country. The parade on New York's best known street, Fifth Avenue, was three miles long. Forty thousand women and ten thousand men were in line. Twenty thousand banners, 3,000 huge banners and 10,000 signs pleaded for the equal franchise, already in operation. The picture shows women from the states in which the equal franchise is already in operation, marching in the parade, while the insert shows Miss Ethel Stebbins, the grand marshal of the parade.

State Line Negro Had Booze In Bed

For all the world knows Henry Fason, colored, may have had dreams of snakes, spouting flames, racing chariots and such like, for in a mattress, upon which Henry was wont to slumber, deputy sheriffs yesterday found three pints of "take me home and put me to bed" gin.

In the back yard and buried underneath a shed the officers found eight more pints. Henry lived at State Line, the nearest point between Alabama and Florida and he had more liquor on hand than allowed by the law, it is claimed. Yesterday deputy sheriffs Ben and Tailmadge May went to State Line via Campbellton, Fla., where they were joined by Bob Pileher, a Jackson county, Florida, teacher.

The trio then swooped down on Henry and took his lay-out of wet goods. Henry is now boarding with the county.

Kentucky Governorship Race Is Not Settled

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Kentucky's race for governor is not settled. The democrats claim Stanley has over 4,000 majority and the republicans claim Morrow's election by a safe figure. Returns yet to be received will determine the result positively.

Deranged Secretary Does Bloody Deed

New York, Nov. 4.—Believed to have been temporarily deranged after a long illness, Edward McManus, a secretary, killed his wife, his four-year-old son by cutting their throats with a razor and then committed suicide early today at his home, 146 West 164th street.

McManus first cut his wife's throat. The wounded woman picked up her 1-year-old son, William, and ran for the door. McManus stopped them and cut the boy's throat. The wife wrested the dying boy from McManus' grasp, however, and ran out into the hall. At the threshold she dropped the child and staggered downstairs to the apartment of her brother-in-law, William McManus. She reached the door of her relative's apartment, pounded on the door and dropped dead. The police found McManus and the boy dead. Another child, Gertrude Mary, was lying in her crib with a slight wound in her neck.

McManus was 31 years old and had just been discharged from a hospital after having a third operation within a few months.

NO FUNDS TO PAY TEACHERS FOR OCTOBER

Indications Are That Governor Henderson Is "Politicking" For Pet Bond Issue.

Men and women who teach young hopefuls in the various schools of this county, will not be paid off Saturday, according to John M. Odum, county superintendent of education. The reason is simple: no funds.

The October pay roll is due tomorrow, and will represent in this county about $5,000 due teachers. Yet the State of Alabama cannot or will not meet the obligation at this time. Superintendent Odum said he does not know when the teachers will get their money but probably in December. By that time enough taxes may have been paid in to pay off the teachers.

Our Governor.

Our sovereign governor, Hon. Charles Henderson, of Troy, Pike county, Alabama, seventy miles from Dothan in a northerly direction, aforementioned town being located on the Atlantic Coast Line railway, but who—still talking about the governor—rodes in Montgomery and most generally is to be found on Capitol Hill—has an idea, if reports be true, that it is not wise to issue warrants to pay the teachers now, or to make temporary arrangements to care for the obligation, but wait until the funds are in hand—that is until the tax payers fork over the necessary monies. All of which has led some to believe that our governor, of Troy, is "politicking" for his pet bond issue. Of course there may not be any politics in it. And again there may be.

At any rate the teachers will not get their money tomorrow and it's a sad predicament with many of them, for school teachers, like other people, must have money.

Yet the State of Alabama makes them wait.

LOCAL FIRES.

An unoccupied residence on Headland Avenue, owned by J. C. Hardy, was destroyed by fire last night at 11 o'clock, the origin of the fire not being known. The firemen had barely returned to the station before they answered another call, this house being one owned by W. P. Pruitt, and located near the Central of Georgia railway at the Lena street crossing. It was also unoccupied. The first fire was outside the water limits, and the other one had gained too much headway to be put out.

HENRY GARNER GETS A LIFE SENTENCE

Clayton, Ala., Nov. 4.—Henry Garner, who has been on trial here for a week, has come to an end, the trial resulting in the conviction of Garner and a sentence of life imprisonment. Garner is accused of killing Leman Owens, his brother-in-law, on October 18.

Garner pleaded insanity and idiocy. On the stand he rehearsed the scene of the killing in a dramatic fashion, telling of how his relative begged him not to kill him. The jury kept the case only two hours and 45 minutes. An appeal was taken.

GERMANY SEEKS PEACE SAYS A FRENCH REPORT

Paris, Nov. 4.—"If Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor and the supposed peace agent of the kaiser, attempts to cross the Atlantic to put peace proposals before President Wilson, he will be placed under arrest by the crews of the Anglo-French warships."

This was the warning printed in nearly all the newspapers today. They declared further that every effort would be made to prevent Prince von Buelow from making his way into Spain from Switzerland.

Following the stirring address of Premier Briand in parliament yesterday, when he declared that none of the allies would consider peace until Germany is shattered and made helpless.

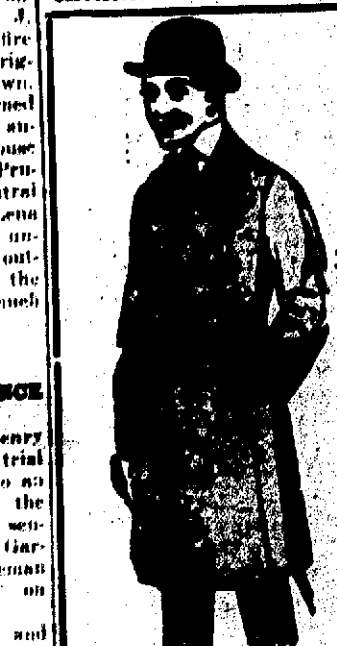

A new note of optimism was prevalent today. This feeling of hopefulness was further strengthened by dispatches indicating that Germany has been reduced to such straits that she is eagerly seeking a means of making peace.

Although it has been denied in Berlin that Germany is anxious to make peace, rumors to the contrary persist in the German capital.

German stocks have been strongly affected by peace rumors during the past few days in Berlin.

Dispatches from Bern say there is an insistent belief in diplomatic circles that the kaiser, during the next three months will make vigorous efforts to obtain peace through the medium of the nation and the American and Spanish governments.

"True internal conditions in Germany and Austria are not known to the outside world," said the dispatch. "The world would be shocked to learn the existing state of affairs. Food is scarce, money is scarcely obtainable and the enormous losses sustained by the armies have brought the people to the verge of a revolution."

ADVERTISER MAN HERE.

For some time readers of The Advertiser have been reading articles in that paper of various towns in Alabama, written by its staff correspondent, Walter Harper, who recently came to that paper from the Birmingham News. This work that Mr. Harper is doing is a new work with The Advertiser. The present management is trying to get acquainted better with the people of Alabama, and Mr. Harper having had years experience writing political stories for the Birmingham papers, was selected for this work. He goes to the different towns, and communities, and writes up things of interest, telling of the efforts at building up the various towns, and carrying illustrations of people and things. He is meeting the people as a representative of The Advertiser and trying to get a better understanding between them.

Mr. Harper came to Dothan yesterday and will be here till tomorrow, preparing a two-page write-up on Dothan for the Sunday Advertiser. He is a little late; he should have reached here last week to have gotten the right impression of the hustle of this community from the farm exhibits at the fair.

For woman suffrage there is, to our mind, one argument stronger than all the hundreds of others set forth with more or less emphasis if not hysterical exaggeration. Women need the ballot that they may be saved from themselves.

It is the exceptional woman who has had satisfaction in the exercise of passing, music, and other pleasures. It may have been that "woman's place is in the home" the time has passed. There are no longer homes enough to go around.

More work, in the shops and offices, does not satisfy.

Voting is, in our opinion, better than flirting.

Of this generation thousands of young women are growing up with thoughts absorbed by the "new dances" and "the boys" and clothes, clothes and more clothes. They do not ride horseback, in the South they do not play tennis or golf; they certainly do not take the serious thought of life and its problems that their grandmothers did.

That the working woman should wish to have the ballot is natural and inevitable. The woman with a job of course yearns for the handiest and most effective weapon to protect it with.

The woman who has no job and who is not looking forward to having a home of her own would certainly be a better woman with some serious thing to occupy her mind even though it be politics—which is in most cases a pretty thing for a woman to touch.

Politics can't improve the best women but some women politics might save. As for women permanently improving politics, that is an idle conceit—an emanation of vanity and superficiality.

THE ZEPPELIN DEFENSE

(New York Post)

The apparently official plea of justification for Germany's Zeppelin policy, contained in a note appearing in all the Berlin newspapers, places Zeppelin and submarine on the same plane as primarily instruments of retaliation. The starvation of the German people once more comes to the front. When the Berlin war office reports an airship raid it carefully speaks of bombs being dropped on the fortified city of London or on docks and arsenals, describing it, in other words as a military undertaking. But in the note of justification the military phase of the Zeppelin activity is plainly subordinated to the retaliatory phase. The Zeppelin note shows firmer logical consistency than the familiar submarine argument, which almost in the same breath justified U-boat activity because England was trying to starve Germany, and asserted that Germany had all the food she wanted. Today there is the admission that "not hundreds of thousands but millions of human beings in Germany must limit their consumption of food and make not inconsiderable sacrifices" because of the British blockade. The note thus admits a state of things which was implied in the recent action of the central authorities at Berlin in taking over the control of the food supply of the empire, and in what has filtered out through the newspapers regarding food riots in German cities.

FLIERING FROM A SHADOW.

"The wicked flee when no man pursueth," Prov. 28:1.

What are nineteen years of a man's life worth to him? Who would sell nearly a score of years out of the prime of his life for the paltry sum of $500? Jim Cunningham of Alexandria, Ind., did this very thing.

He did this very thing, according to the Birmingham Age-Herald.

On Christmas eve, 1896, Cunningham stole $500 from the post-office in Alexandria and disappeared. He went to a nearby city and spent the money in one month of riotous living. Then Cunningham dared not communicate with his people—he feared constantly that he would be apprehended for his theft. He viewed all men with suspicion. He hid himself in the slums of a city. Soon he would become convinced that detectives were on his trail, and in a panic of fear he would hasten to another big city to mingle with the drags of society and hide again. Time and again was this repeated. For nineteen long, weary years he was an outcast. Then he decided to return to Alexandria and give himself up.

This he did, only to find that there was no charge against him—the officers had never heard of his crime. His brother was sent for, and at first did not recognize the rugged, dirty beggar man whom he had not seen for so many years. Then the other side of the pitiful story was learned.

Jim Cunningham's brother, who was postmaster at the time of the theft, had discovered the shortage in cash, and in the light of the disappearance of Jim, had understood what it meant. He replaced the $500 out of his own money and told no one of the incident. Jim Cunningham's aged parents had grieved over the absence of their boy, but they had been spared the knowledge of his crime.

"You could have come back after the first week," the brother said. "Now you can stay here with me. We'll get you a job in Alexandria and you can start all over again."

This man traded nineteen years of his life for such enjoyment as one month of riotous living can afford, and he will continue to pay, in a lesser degree, so long as he lives. No man can sink himself to the depths, can skulk in the slums for that length of time, and not bear the scars for life. Never will he be able to attain to the heights to which he might have aspired had he kept to the path of rectitude.

Of course, had he known it, his hiding was unnecessary, but even so, the fact is evident that man cannot break the civil and moral law without paying. Conscience, if nothing else, will sit in grim judgment.

There is only one way in which lies happiness, and that is the way of honorable dealing—the way of right living.

"September Morn"

Lecomte and Fischer's production of "September Morn," as presented at the city hall auditorium last evening did not disappoint those who were expecting comedy, music and dancing of a high order.

In view of some other shows seen here that did not quite come up to the standard required by a Dothan audience, there were some who were a bit dubious about the show. Then others were frightened away on account of the name, for the prudish see nothing but evil in "September Morn." They conjure pictures of nude women and lose sight of the fine features of the attraction.

Certainly "September Morn" is risqué, it is breezy, and all that, yet there is nothing in the how of a particularly objectionable nature. The comedy and dancing deserve especial mention. If one were looking for flaws the fact that those who sang the leads were hardly above the average might be cited.

Still the comedy and dancing was so praiseworthy that one instinctively lost sight of the mediocre voices and became captivated with the show as a whole.

The work of Carl George, as Rudolph Plastric, professor of art, stands out above anything else in the production. As a comedian one will have to hand it to George. He kept the audience in an uproar, not so much by what he said but the way he said it. "A Spare Rib From the Butcher Shop of Life," sung by Mr. George, was the musical hit of the evening—with the men. We might say with all.

The chorus was far above the average, and strange as it may seem, the girls could dance. The costumes were handsome—really dazzling in some instances.

The pose of "September Morn" in the last act was rather interesting, yet perfectly respectable.

The prudish who kept away on account of a name have missed what we believe will be the best musical comedy of the season.

But speaking of musical comedies, thank goodness we will have a rest. The next attraction is drama, "A Fool There Was," a vampire play, at the auditorium November 16.

HOW A DAUGHTER MADE HER FATHER A WISE FARMER

In the November American Magazine Stanley Johnson continues his series of articles entitled "Youth Leads the Way." This month Mr. Johnson takes up the subject of "Pigs and Piggy Back," and shows what wonderful things have been accomplished since getting the boys and girls interested in the cattle industry. Following is an account of a thirteen-year-old girl who won the championship of her state, and at the same time converted her father from a poor cotton farmer to a pig raiser:

I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. ship of her state by thirteen-year old Alice McCoy of Blanchard, Caddo Parish, over all the other one hundred and eighty-four boy and girl competitors.

Her zeal to enter a pig club was encouraged by a loan of ten dollars from the superintendent of schools to buy a finished Berkshire gilt. Eleven months old, it weighed five hundred pounds. A breeder offered Miss McCoy $50 for it. The significant part of her achievement is the conversion of her father from being a poor cotton farmer to a pig raiser.

Alice made more money from her one pig than he did from his whole farm from which he gained one bale of cotton worth about $45. It cost her $5 to raise her pig, a little more than two cents a pound. Her ten dollars brought more than his investment in two mules, farming implements, and a year's work.

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

Corn Limpers! Use "Gels-it" and Smile!

Come Come Right Off, Clean and Quick! You Needn't Limp or Run With Your Corns Any More!

What's the use of spoiling a good time for yourself by limping around with those corns? It's one of the easiest things in the world, now, to get rid of them. "Gels-it" does it.

"Come Come Right Off, Clean and Quick! You Needn't Limp or Run With Your Corns Any More!"

the new way. That's why "Gels-it" has become the corn remedy of America, the biggest selling corn remedy in the world, preferred by millions. Do you remember that toe-eating snake you tried that sticky tape, that toe-bundling bandage, the gouging you've done with knives, razors and nail-scraper? Well now, forget them all. No more tedious, no more pain. Whenever you use simple, easy "Gels-it," the corn is cleaned, sure, so is every skin, is cleaned, sure, so is every skin, is cleaned, sure, so is every skin.

"Gels-it" is sold by all druggists, the Pa. bottle, or sent direct by Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Private-Header Invitations Issued—

Mr. and Mrs. James Anthony Minter request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Marguerite Minter, to Mr. William Girard Privett, on Wednesday afternoon, November 10, 1915, at 3 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church, Selma, Ala.

Brief Personals—

Mrs. A. E. Pace left this morning for Montgomery, for a short visit.

SUGGESTION TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. You can get it just as Mrs. Maxwell did. She says:—

"I keep house for my little family of three, and became completely run-down. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep; finally I was unable to do my housework. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and improved rapidly. It toned up my system, I regained my strength, am no longer nervous, sleep well, and do all my housework." Mrs. J. C. Maxwell, Montgomery, Ala.

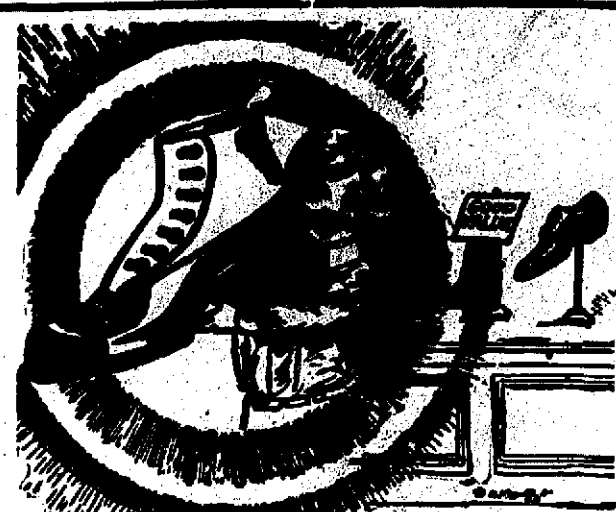

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, tonic iron and beef peptone, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength-creating tonics.

So many letters like the above are continually coming to our attention, that we freely offer to return the money paid for Vinol in every case where it fails to give satisfaction.
